

Lukáš Horka

About me

I am hardworking and ambitious, and that's why I'm seeking a job where I can fulfill these qualities.

I am studying in the field of computer science (full-stack web development), which was also the reason why I chose FIIT as my university. However, the study plan did not meet my expectations, so I decided to pursue this field through self-study. I love educating myself in the IT field, therefore I am open to learning all new technologies.
